MATURY PRÓBNE 2024, Angielski podstawa

Zadanie 4. (0 – 4pkt)

Przeczytaj tekst. Dobierz właściwy nagłówek (A–F) do każdej części tekstu (4.1.–4.4.). Wpisz odpowiednią literę w każdą kratkę. Uwaga: dwa nagłówki zostały podane dodatkowo i nie pasują do żadnej części tekstu.

A. A BUILDING WITH MANY OPPORTUNITIES

B. THE NEW OWNER'S RENOVATION PROJECT

C. THE BEST DEAL FOR ESTATE AGENTS

D. SOME SERIOUS DISADVANTAGES

E. THE PRICE OF THE PROPERTY

F. A QUITE UNIQUE LOCATION

AN OLD FORT ON RIVER THAMES FOR SALE

4.1

Odpowiedź:

If you are looking for peace and quiet when buying a new home, you could definitely look into a 19th century disused military fort right in the middle of the Thames Estuary. Built in 1855, it lies off the Isle of Grain in Medway, Kent, exactly where the River Thames flows into the North Sea. The building, which is completely surrounded by water, offers amazing sea views and is about a kilometre off-shore.

4.2

Odpowiedź:

This unique property, which has been for sale for some time now, is massive and, according to many estate agents, has quite a lot of potential. It has enough space for up to seven large bedrooms. It can also be transformed into an off-shore hotel, a nightclub or a casino, an outdoor activities centre or even a film location. One of the visitors came up with the idea of turning it into a recording studio.

4.3

Odpowiedź:

At the moment the building, called by one of the local estate-agents 'an absolute monster', has no electricity or running water. It will, of course, need to be completely renovated, which will cost a lot of money – not less than £1,000,000. What is more, accessing the property is not very easy – you need a boat or a helicopter as it can only be reached on foot when the sea is low.

4.4

Odpowiedź:

The owner of the fort is Simon Cooper – a builder from south-east London. He purchased it in 2004 hoping to change it into his home. As his plans didn't work out, he has put the property back on the market and is looking for a buyer willing to spend half a million pounds on this unique building. Considering its size and extraordinary location, it seems like a good deal and it is still less expensive than some of the one-bedroom flats for sale in the surrounding area.

Worth the hike! Absolutely stunning views.
May 2022

We visited Durdle Door with our dog and absolutely loved it – it's such a stunning coastline! The walk uphill can be quite difficult in places, so make sure you wear your walking shoes. The view is worth the climb though! It's a whole-day trip when you combine it with Lulworth Cove, famous for its pebble beach and blue waters. The parking charges are quite high and there are long queues to the ticket machines but we will definitely visit again.

Tekst C

To: Travel Agency

From: Ann Jones

Dear Sir/Madam,

I'm writing to complain about the recent half-day trip to Durdle Door I booked with your travel company. The coach was over one hour late for a tour which was only supposed to last three hours. My friend and I were waiting at the meeting point at Bournemouth Pier but nobody informed us about the delay. When the coach finally arrived, the driver didn't even apologise. Our tour guide Mike shared a lot of interesting facts about Durdle Door. However, we had to rush and didn't have enough time to admire the beautiful views or take lots of photos.

Since the delay was your company's fault, I expect some compensation.

Regards,

Ann Jones

My blog

I have been picking up rubbish on English beaches for several months now. There's a big group of us – people who clean beaches in their free time. As I live quite close to Durdle Door, I spend most of my time volunteering at Durdle Door beach. It's really sad to see how some of us come to enjoy the beautiful landscapes but do not care about the environment at all. Last week I filled ten bags with litter that had been left behind. Yes, it's true – there are no rubbish bins on the beach but would it be so difficult to take your waste back to the car park and throw it into a bin? We collect disposable barbecues (they are not even allowed on the beach!), single-use plastic bottles, food waste, broken glass, toilet paper and baby nappies. I will never understand why some of us treat such a beautiful tourist attraction like a rubbish dump!

Przeczytaj zdania 5.1.–5.3. Dopasuj do każdego zdania właściwy tekst (A–D).

Uwaga: jeden tekst nie pasuje do żadnego zdania.

5.1. In this text, somebody mentions two tourist attractions.

Odpowiedź:

5.2. The author of this text complains about a serious problem in a tourist spot.

Odpowedź:

5.3. This text advertises a tourist attraction that welcomes visitors with dogs.

Odpowiedź:

Przeczytaj wiadomość, którą Wiktor wysłał do kolegi. Uzupełnij luki 5.4.–5.7. zgodnie z treścią tekstów A–D, tak, aby jak najbardziej precyzyjnie oddać ich sens. Luki należy uzupełnić w języku polskim WIELKIMI LITERAMI.

Uwaga: w każdą lukę można wpisać maksymalnie trzy wyrazy.

Cześć Robert!

Pozdrowienia z Bournemouth!

W zeszłym tygodniu wybraliśmy się z Ann zobaczyć Durdle Door. Na pewno widziałeś zdjęcia w Internecie: to duża atrakcja turystyczna w południowej Anglii – naturalny łuk wapienny na wybrzeżu.

Przed wyjazdem zastanawialiśmy się, jak tam dotrzeć, bo jest kilka możliwości. Ann przeczytała gdzieś, że 5.4. _____ sporo kosztuje, więc zrezygnowaliśmy z podróży samochodem. W końcu wybraliśmy się autokarem z jedną z firm turystycznych. Mieliśmy świetnego przewodnika, a samo miejsce jest naprawdę piękne. Załączam zdjęcie. Zrobiłem tylko kilka, bo autokar spóźnił się o 5.5. _____ i mieliśmy przez to dużo mniej czasu na miejscu. Ann napisała nawet e-mail z reklamacją w tej sprawie.

Niestety, to prawda, że turyści, którzy odwiedzają Durdle Door, zostawiają po sobie bardzo dużo śmieci: plastikowe butelki, resztki jedzenia, papier toaletowy, pieluchy, a nawet jednorazowe grille, chociaż są one na plaży 5.6. _____. Faktycznie nie ma tam ani koszy na śmieci ani 5.7. _____, ale jednak nie jest to usprawiedliwienie dla takiego postępowania .

Mimo to naprawdę warto odwiedzić Durdle Door. Koniecznie dopisz do swojej listy podróży na przyszły rok!

Do zobaczenia wkrótce w Warszawie!

Have you ever heard of WORDLE? If so, would you play it every day? These might seem like really silly questions because if you are a fan of word games, you're probably somewhere between partly and totally addicted to it by now. I can't help thinking that Wordle is not just a temporary fashion but will provide entertainment for years to come.

For the few of you who need it, here's a short explanation: Wordle is an online free puzzle in which the players' aim is to guess a five-letter word in six tries. After every guess, the player receives feedback: his/her chosen letter turns either grey, yellow or green. Grey means that a letter from the player's guess is not in the answer. If it is in the answer but not in the right position, the letter will turn yellow. Green indicates that the chosen letter is correct and in the correct place. If you feel like a bigger challenge, you can opt for the hard mode of the game, but the word, published daily, is the same for everyone around the world. In another version of the game, a colour blind mode, the colour scheme changes from green to orange and from yellow to light blue.

There's quite an unusual story behind the beginnings of this new brain teaser. Wordle was created by the British software engineer Josh Wardle, and its name is a wordplay on his own surname. The puzzle was actually a gift to his girlfriend, Palak Shah, who had always been keen on different kinds of word games, with crosswords and Spelling Bee being her favourite. For Palak, Wordle is Josh's wonderful expression of his love for her and a very sweet gesture. When the couple started playing, they quickly became obsessed with it. Josh published Wordle on the web and decided to share it with his family and close relatives. Then it was his friends' turn. Some of them were so enthusiastic about the new puzzle that they started exchanging their completed answers with each other. This served Josh as a source of inspiration and, within the next few months, a slightly revised Wordle became extremely popular on social media. Now it's available on the website of one of the biggest American mass media companies.

More and more people now train their brains with Wordle. Why has it taken the world by storm? Well, the answer is simple: it's just a fun thing to do online. Best of all, you don't need to register or have an account and so you're not sent annoying emails or notifications. Wordle is a competitive game as everybody gets the same word to guess and players can later post their results. But, I suppose, you can say that it's less competitive than some other online puzzles. Another advantage is that you don't need to spend more than two to three minutes a day on it. I hope it will be the case for me one day too as my first go at Wordle took over five times longer!

CAN TOMATOES TALK TO THEMSELVES?

A very interesting fact about tomatoes has been revealed recently. It turns out that when some insects come close to them, tomato fruits share this information with the rest of the tomato plant as a defensive strategy. 7.1. _____ To answer this question, scientists from the Federal University of Pelotas in Brazil conducted several experiments. They all involved tomato plants and caterpillars. It will be interesting to see if other fruits and plants have a similar ability and can communicate in the same way.

A. However, it was believed before that the messages are sent from the plant to the fruit and not the other way round.

B. But how exactly does the communication between the different parts of the plant happen?

C. When tomato fruits sense an approaching insect, they emit a series of electrical signals to the main plant.

D. But what are the ways in which they try to attract more and more insects to themselves?
